GAZETTE.

With the latest Advices,

Foreign and Domestick.

From the borders of the Vistula, June 15.

THE great number of Catholics, among whom are some Bishops, which have joined the Dissidents, give us room to think that it is not only the cause of the latter, but some more general interest, that occasions the commotions in Poland and Lithuania. Be it as it will, it is certain that the Counts Henry and Maurice de Bruhl, who are at present in Saxony, have acceded to the act by which Courland joins the confederacy of Dissidents in Lithuania, because, though invested with the indigenat (instrument of naturalization) in Courland, they were refused to be acknowledged as Polish nobles in the late Diets.

NAPLES, JUNE 6. Mount Vesuvius began about a fortnight ago to throw out a great quantity of fire from its summit, which from repeated observations has been found to be an omen of an approaching eruption.

We have received advice that a ship belonging to the order of Malta lately attacked a Turkish vessel off the island of Rhodes, the commander of which, after an obstinate engagement, which lasted 9 hours, finding it was not in his power to hold out any longer, blew up his ship with his own hand.

WARSAW, JUNE 13. The 24 different confederacies lately formed in Lithuania united the 2d of this month at Wilna, and elected M. Biezostowski, Staroste of Bystrycz, Marshal of that general confederacy, by whom Prince Charles de Radzivil is declared absolved, and re-established in his liberty, estates, and honours.

JUNE 16. Prince Charles de Radzivil's publick entry into Wilna was accompanied by the report of cannon, and he was received there with great marks of joy by the noblesse, clergy, and burghers. The day after his entry he presented a gold watch to each of the officers of the detachment of Russian troops which escorted him, and gave wine and other refreshments to the soldiers.

POLISH PRUSSIA, JUNE 15. The Marshal and Counsellors of all the confederations in Poland assembled this day at Radom, about 16 leagues from Warsaw, to elect a Marshal General; and it is supposed that all the suffrages united in the person of Prince Charles de Radzivil.

MADRID, JUNE 12. Orders having been given to expel all the Jesuits in his Majesty's dominions, both in America and Asia, it is reported that his Majesty proposes to send thither 3000 other Monks, from the different orders established in this kingdom.

METZ, JUNE 12. The Parliament has this day issued an arret, which orders all the Jesuits, who have not yet taken the oath prescribed, to take it within a month's time, on pain of forfeiting the advantages devolved to them by the edict of November 1764, of being rendered unworthy of the King's favour, and obliged to quit the kingdom.

GENOA, JUNE 13. Two other convoys of Jesuits arrived at Baitia; but as that port was not capable to contain the number of vessels, they were ordered and sailed for San Fiorenza.

LONDON, June 22.

We hear that Mier Jaffier, who lately died in the East Indies, has left Lord Clive to the value of 120,000l. sterling, on which his Lordship summoned a council for their opinion whether that money properly belonged to the Company or himself, when they determined that it was his Lordship's sole right; whereupon his Lordship took possession of it, but immediately after generously settled the whole of it on the widows and orphans of those officers and soldiers who lost their lives in the service.

By accounts lately arrived in the Prince Frederick's fleet, we are credibly informed that the new islands near the Straits of Magellan were last summer very fruitful in pease, beans, turnips, potatoes, &c. &c. the seed of which had been sown by the Gentlemen of the men of war stationed at Port Egmont, which was discovered by the Dolphin in her last voyage, and said to be as commodious and safe a harbour as any in the world; that the corn was in the ear when they left that place, which was in January last, answering to our July, the island lying in nearly the same parallel with London, in the southern hemisphere. The land being without trees, care had been taken to get a large quantity transported from the Straits; so that, with proper management and industry, it is hoped they will one day turn out of the utmost use. Those are the islands which some have represented to be so sterile as not to produce any kind of vegetables! Had Commodore Anson, in his voyage round Cape Horn, known of this port, there is not the least doubt but his whole fleet might have gone into the South Sea in good condition.

JUNE 25. A few days since the celebrated Miss Fanny, late of Cock Lane, eminent in the profession of knocking and scratching, entered into the service of an American crump, durante vita. It is imagined she will commence copartnership with the late little gypsey of Enfield Wath. Should this scheme have any effect, it will certainly prove a great benefit to Old England, by amusing the Americans from political views.

JUNE 26. By a Gentleman just arrived from Scotland, we are informed that at Edinburgh, and other places, they are at present greatly agitated by the near approach of the determination of the Douglas great cause, and bets are near on an equality; that several short-hand Gentlemen are arrived from London to take down the debates, for which they are to be paid from 300 to 500 guineas each perion; and that most of the Nobility and persons of distinction in that kingdom were come to Edinburgh, to be present at the debates.

Two children of a Gentleman in Lombard street very lately were inoculated for the smallpox, and recovered; a few weeks after both took it in the natural way, and are now living. Where then is the benefit of inoculation?

JULY 4. We are credibly informed that orders are given for proper lifts to be made out, against next session of Parliament, of all the Papists, or those that are reputed as such, in the respective dioceses throughout the kingdom.

There is the finest prospect of a plentiful wheat harvest that has been known for many years.

By a letter, dated the 1st of December last, from a Gentleman who was on board the Palmouth East Indiaman when she was struck with lightning, we are informed that they were afterwards wrecked in the mouth of the Ganges; and of 360 men, which they carried from England, there are only about 160 now alive at Calcutta, the rest being either killed by the lightning, burnt in the ship, drowned, devoured by tigers when they got ashore, or died of fatigue.

JULY 6. It is said that an offer has been made to some of the principals of the opposition, to compose the new Administration, but that they would not accept but upon terms that could not be complied with, which terms are not yet certainly known; but it seems one of them is, that they insist upon bringing their friends along with them.

Father Fresneda told her that the company was in no want of money, and that she would make a better disposal of it if she would leave it to portion poor orphans; and the Lady followed his advice. His brethren gave out that he was dead."

This morning some despatches were sent off from the Secretary of State's office, for their Excellencies the Lords Justices of Ireland.

According to some letters from Leghorn, the French General, Count de Marbeuf, had prevailed upon the General of the Corsicans to put a stop to any further hostilities against the Genoese, until the success of a 6th negotiation should be experienced, at the Court of Versailles, for effecting a peace between these islanders and the Republick.

THE subscriber being considerably indebted to the Treasury, and finding it impossible to make payment thereof in time without disposing of part of his estate, and knowing, from the great scarcity of cash, that it is impossible to sell in the usual way for the real value of his effects, therefore proposes the following scheme of a lottery for that purpose; and humbly hopes for the countenance and encouragement of the publick, as it is designed with no other view than to discharge a debt which he brought on himself by no other means than indulging too many people in the office of sheriff, which can be well attested by the Gentlemen of the county of Hanover.

THE purchasers of the SLAVES of Francis Willis, Esq; are desired to pay the purchase money, when due, to Mess. Francis Jerdone & John Hawkins, who sold the slaves; and to no one else, they being empowered by all parties concerned to collect the same; and as the money is much wanted, no indulgence must be expected.

WHEN we engaged in the administration of the late Treasurer's estate, it was with the most sanguine hopes that our labour in that extensive duty would be considerably lessened by the readiness with which all the debtors to it would provide for payment, and prevent us the disagreeable task of compulsory methods; especially as every newspaper published last summer, containing censures on the conduct of that Gentleman for breach of duty in the loan of the publick money; and the judgment obtained at the last court for six thousand pounds; for which the estate is now liable to be taken in execution, and for the further sum of upwards of one hundred thousand pounds, for which execution is stayed to a period not very remote; must have convinced the debtors it was not in our power to grant them much indulgence, and we hoped would have stimulated their utmost diligence in refunding the money they had so improperly borrowed: But it is with uncommon concern we observe these circumstances seem to have had very little effect on them, since we cannot, out of the immense sums due to that estate, raise as much as will discharge even the six thousand pounds; and are sorry to say those Gentlemen appear to us wholly unconcerned what becomes of their friend's estate, while they can keep their own together, and live at ease. Impelled therefore by invincible necessity, we give this notice that we shall proceed to extremities with every one, without distinction, who does not before the end of the succeeding General Court settle his account, and if not the whole, pay a considerable part, and give proper security for the residue; which, as it is our indispensable duty, we hope will be excused by those concerned. And, if they retain any regard for the memory of their deceased friend, who assisted them in their distress, at the risk of his fortune, and loss of his reputation, they will surely save us this further trouble.

PETER LYONS, } Administrators.

Should any of the persons concerned desire it, they may fee the accounts, as stated by Mr. Usher, by applying to Mr. Lyons.

FIELDING LEWIS,

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 7, 1767.

RUN AWAY from the subscriber's schooner flat, lying at Nomony, on Sunday the 23d of August last, a convict servant lad named Dennis Shields, about 16 years of age, about 4 feet 3 or 4 inches high, by trade a chimney sweeper, but has been at sea to the East Indies, and pretends to be a seaman; he is an Irishman, is much addicted to lying, and loves drink; had with him an old great coat, the cape lined with red, a red waistcoat without sleeves, a pair of new shoes, two of nabrug shirts and trousers, and has a bad look. I have reason to believe he was enticed off by a certain William Deberts, in a small schooner boat, who said he lived at Hampton, but was then bound to Norfolk, and had been up this river collecting some debts due to him. Whoever takes up the said servant, and brings him to me, shall have Three Pounds reward, besides what the law allows; and if they can make it appear he was carried off by said Deberts, so that I can punish him, I will give Five Pounds reward.

JOHN CARLYLE.

RUN AWAY from the subscriber in Lunenburg, about the 10th of May last, a Negro man slave, who calls himself FOOSER, though hard to be understood, has an impediment in one of his legs, and can hardly talk English; he was in Charles City gaol about the last of JULY, and broke out, and is supposed to be gone to the Northern Neck, to his former master, William Glascock. Whoever apprehends the said Negro, so that I get him again in Lunenburg, on Meherrin, shall have Twenty Shillings reward.

BENNIDICK ALDERSON.

HANOVER county, Sept. 1, 1767.

WHEREAS most obscene advertisements have, in my absence, been publicly delivered and posted about in this county, dated the 28th of August last, under my name; I hereby advise and forewarn all persons to be particularly careful of ever proceeding in the like manner again, as nothing shall screen them from the most rigorous proceedings at law; but if they are the performances of any person or persons related to a neighbouring family (which I greatly suspect) it only corroborates the opinion that, for many reasons, I have lately entertained of them. Whoever will discover the person or persons concerned in writing the above mentioned advertisements, shall receive FIVE POUNDS reward. I take this opportunity of returning my sincere thanks to those Gentlemen who have really studied to promote my interest.

JEFFERY ROBERTSON.

NEW KENT, Sept. 10, 1767.

MY bad state of health obliging me to leave the colony, I request the favour of all persons indebted to the store kept by me in this county, or to that in Williamsburg, either by bond or open account, to make immediate payment, that I may be enabled to settle my affairs before my departure. As there has been so long indulgence given, I flatter myself that due regard will be paid to this advertisement, as it would be very much against my inclination to be under the necessity of commencing suits, which I unavoidably must do if proper payments are not made to me between this and the ensuing October court.

The store in this county, and that in Williamsburg, will be continued as usual; and having lately imported a choice assortment of goods suitable for the season, all persons who may please to favour me with their custom may depend upon being furnished on the best terms, for ready money, or short credit.

THOMAS MOORE.

KING WILLIAM, August 25, 1767.

FREDERICKSBURG

AFTER nine years experience, I am convinced a Virginia estate interested too much with my profession to admit of attendance enough, without doing injustice to those who depend on the latter; and without due attention to the first, its losses will very much abridge the profits of the last. For these reasons I intend to sell the following LANDS and SLAVES, at the times and on the terms hereafter mentioned, viz.

4875 acres of land, being part of 6500 contained in one tract on Shenando river, in the county of Frederick, in Virginia. It is sufficient to recommend this land to say that it contains more than a moderate proportion of low ground. The sale to be on the premises the first day of December next, if fair, otherwise next fair day, before when it will be laid off in lots for the convenience of the buyers. One half of the purchase money to be paid by the 10th of April next, the other half by the 10th of March 1769. Any person inclinable to view the land may be shown it by Mr. Edward Snigars, who lives adjoining. Five per cent. discount for ready money will be allowed on the first payment, and twelve and a half per cent. on the second.

Also to be sold, at private sale, one other tract on Four Mile run, about 5 miles from the town of Alexandria, in the county of Fairfax, containing 1166 acres; part is very good, and part mean; but as it is level, it is capable of being improved to advantage. There are several acres very fit for meadow, and a stream within it which is very constant, and sufficient even for a mill.

Also one other tract on Potomac run, containing 1059 acres, about 5 miles from the town of Colchester, in the said county of Fairfax. I never saw this land, so cannot vouch for its quality, but I presume it is like the neighbouring lands which are occupied; and, as there are two tenants on this, I suppose they think it is worth leasing. The tenants are at will, so no encumbrance.

Likewise to be sold, at publick sale, on the 16th of next December, at my mill plantation on Little river, in the county of Loudoun, two miles from Captain William West's ordinary, 40 SLAVES, 28 workers, the rest fixable children; they are likely slaves, and the young ones remarkably so, having been well fed and clothed from their birth. Also all the stocks of horses, black cattle, hogs, and sheep; corn, wheat, rye, oats, hay, and fodder (of which there will be a large quantity) and all the plantation utensils belonging to two quarters. The black cattle are remarkably fine, some of the horses are blooded, and a great number of the hogs will then be fattened for pork. The slaves will be sold on the same terms with the Frederick lands, and the stocks, &c. for three months credit only, with a discount of two and a half per cent. for ready money.

At the same time will be let, for lives or years, the said mill plantation, with 400 or more acres of land adjoining (to include 352 acres lately purchased of Mr. Craven Peyton) whereon are many valuable improvements; among which is a very constant and well accustomed tub mill, with a bolt to go by water, and floors, convenient for merchant work. It is so well situated as to have earned 120 barrels of Indian corn a year, besides a large quantity of wheat and rye. Also a double pitched framed barn, with three floors for storing threshed grain, well shingled, and underpinned with stone, and is about three years old. Likewise a large framed house, lately built by Mr. Peyton for his dwelling house; it is not finished, but is well shingled, and weather-boarded with feather-edge plank, and has a good cellar walled with stone. There is now on this plantation about 30 acres of meadow, well set with timothy, and 150 more may be made with very little expense. But it is to be observed that, as a tract to which this proposed tenement adjoins is thought to contain a great quantity of iron ore, if a furnace or other works should be built thereon, then the lease for this tenement to determine on the first day of November next, after the workmen or labourers shall begin to erect the works, or dig the ore.

Also for sale the said adjoining tract, together with the tenement last mentioned; the whole containing 17,200 acres, on easy terms, and very long credit for greatest part of the money. It is thought to be very fit for iron works, and to contain an inexhaustible quantity of iron ore, and wood and water enough for two furnaces, and several single forges. There are two streams within this tract; the one about 5 miles below the other, is always the same, and is fed by a spring which rises at the top of a mountain, about half a mile from where the furnace would be fixed. It is more than sufficient for a furnace and merchant mill. The upper stream is called Little river, and for nine months in the year would supply four tub mills. I speak of dry years, for until lately it never failed supplying my tub mill, which consumes a prodigious quantity of water; and, at the driest season, this mill grinds about two hours every morning. The stream is so land locked that it is the opinion of an iron master, who accompanied me to the place in July 1765 (a dry year) that it will support several single forges very near each other; and with reservoirs, which may be made with very little expense, it might be made perpetual. At the time he attended me the season had been very dry for a considerable time, and my overseer informed us that the water was nearly at the lowest; and then, from an experiment, we found the fountain yielded as much as could be discharged through a trough 24 inches square. Many thousand acres of this land are extremely fine, and the whole well covered with wood, and affords an excellent range for stock. Its situation is very good as to inland trade for iron, and the land carriage is 45 miles to Alexandria, 32 to Colchester, and 36 to the town of Dumfries, on Quantico creek; the lower stream is 5 miles nearer to Colchester and Dumfries, to which the roads are equal to the best natural road in America, and the neighbourhood is well settled with Pennsylvania and Jersey farmers. I have neither time nor skill to make such assays as are necessary to discover the quantity or quality of the ore, but if any persons incline to make experiments they are at full liberty to do so, and my overseer, now on the premises, will show all the blossoms on the land; and if such persons become purchasers or partners, they shall be amply allowed for their skill and labour in such inquiries.

An unexceptionable title will be made, with general warranty, and bond and security will be expected of the purchasers. Besides, the lands will not be conveyed until the purchase-money is paid; and, as a collateral security, I shall insist on a bill of sale for the slaves.

JAMES MERCER.

TAKEN up, in Prince George, a dark bay mare, about 4 feet 5 inches and a half high, with a hanging mane and switch tail, a star in her forehead, has a bun on her back, several saddle spots, and branded on the near buttock $\frac{1}{2}$; potted, and appraised to 5 l.

Any person inclinable to purchase may know the terms by applying to me, in King William county.

BERNARD MOORE.

LONDON CARTER.
CHARLES CARTER.

A S C H E M E,

For disposing of, by way of LOTTERY, the LAND and TENEMENTS under mentioned, being the entire towns of Rocky Ridge and Shockoe, lying at the Falls of James river, and the land thereunto adjoining.

THE advantageous situation of this estate is too well known to require a particular description, though it may be necessary to inform the publick that the obstructions through the Falls, and in other parts of the river above, will shortly be removed, and the river made navigable to the said towns: The navigation will thereby be extended, and made both safe and easy for upwards of two hundred miles above the said Falls, and a communication opened to the western frontier of the middle colonies, whereby there will not be more than sixty or seventy miles portage from James river to the Ohio; so that the immense treasure of that valuable country must necessarily be brought to market to one or other of the above said towns, which will occasionally raise the rents, and enhance the value, of the lands and tenements under mentioned, beyond the powers of conception.

A double forge, a mill, with two acres and a half of land adjoining, the use of the landing, the canal, with ten feet on each side, and 2000 acres of back land, the further part of which is not more than five miles from the forge,
